

INTERACTIVE TEACHING AND LEARNING: A CONSTRUCTIVIST APPROACH

A PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP

14 JUNE, 2023 (9:00–15:00)
Incl. coffee break, lunch & feedback session

The Kazakh–British Technical University
Tole Bi Street 59, Almaty, Kazakhstan

Language: English

FACILITATOR
PROFESSOR, DR.
ALISHER FAIZULLAEV

Official partners:

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM THE WORKSHOP?

Discover constructivism in education, a student-centered approach based on active learning, social interaction, joint knowledge construction and meaning making.

Learn how to learn, create a collaborative and supportive learning environment, and develop students' critical thinking, creativity, and problem-solving skills.

Enhance your teaching methods by acting as a facilitator, helping students to bring their experiences into the learning process and using group projects.

PROGRAM IN BRIEF

8:30~
Registration
& Coffee
9:00~
Opening

9:10~11:00
Workshop
Part 1

11:00~11:15
Coffee
Break

11:15~13:00
Workshop
Part 2

13:00~14:00
Lunch
Break

14:00~15:00
Certificates
& Feedback
Session

Join Professor Alisher Faizullaev, a renowned scholar, author, and trainer with 30 years of teaching experience, for this live interactive workshop.

With a D.Sc. in Political Science and a Ph.D. in Psychology, Professor Faizullaev has published 10 books and numerous articles in top-tier journals. He currently works as an Adjunct Professor at the University of World Economy and Diplomacy and Webster University in Tashkent, and has previously been a Fulbright and Visiting Scholar at Georgetown, Tufts, McGill, Cambridge, and Western Washington universities.